From the Chief Appraiser

It is an honor to report on the activities of the Orange County Appraisal District and our ongoing commitment to excellence. In 2023, our appraisal staff did a great job of doing a reappraisal on all property categories in the county. Through sales collection, most of the county saw a 16% increase in the market for residential property. Commercial property was increased on average of 13% for the 2023 year.

During this appraisal cycle we were dealt with yet another natural disaster. We had a major tornado that did damage to numerous properties in Orange County. Our thoughts and prayers go out to all of those that were affected by this event.

Sincerely,

Scott Overton, RPA
Chief Appraiser

2023 Ratio Study

The Property Tax Code requires appraisal districts to test the values based on market conditions. In 2023 a ratio study was conducted on all sales received in Orange County. This is done by taking the total sale price of a property and comparing it to the market value of that property. OCAD tests the Mean, Median and Coefficient of Dispersion of all school districts in the county. It was determined that an 11% increase in value was warranted in Bridge City School District, a 16% increase in Little Cypress- Mauriceville School District, a 14% increase in value in Orangefield School District, a 19 % increase in value in Vidor School District and West Orange Cove School District saw a 19% increase. Overall, the 2022 year showed a positive market in Orange County.

Financial Report

The financial results for 2022 budget year reflect a focus of conservative fiscal stewardship and utilization of the District's financial and personnel resources. The finances of the District are presented in the annual budget and the audited financial statements each year.

Budget

The District's budget must be prepared and presented to the Board of Directors and participating entities by June 15 of each year. The board of Directors holds at least one public hearing required to be held by September and then adopted by September 15th. The budget outlines the objectives as set out by the chief appraiser and approved by the Board of Directors and describes the operating and maintenance expenditures by category, personnel breakdown showing staffing levels and salary ranges as well as a detailed schedule of capitalized equipment to be purchased.

Audited Financial Statements

The financial statements of the district are audited annually by a Certified Public Accountant in accordance with generally accepted accounting standards.

The Board of Directors reviews the budget with the chief appraiser and appropriate district staff for any necessary revisions or recommendations. The Board of Directors reviews the financial audit with the District's auditor to understand any comments contained in the auditor's findings and to receive any recommendations in relation to the financial operations. For 2022, the financial audit was considered "clean" with no recommendations.

Appraisal Process

The 2023 appraisal year began in August of 2022. The district utilized the efforts of five real property and one personal property appraisers as well as the supervision of the Appraisal Supervisor and Deputy Chief Appraiser. For 2023, the district utilized aerial photographs as well as the district's Geographic Information System software as well as field inspections in the discovery process. In the field the appraisers utilized the Mobile Office software on their tablet computers. This allowed them to work more efficiently. The Mobile Office software combines everything into one package. With the aerial photography and the maps being imbedded in the system the appraiser can see the sketches over the aerials. This allows the appraisers to find any additions or removal of improvements easier. The appraiser can then enter the account and make any changes that are necessary. The appraiser is even able to georeferenced a picture to the account to easily identify the improvements. By utilizing this technology, it has made the appraisals more accurate while speeding up the appraisal process.

Personal property (furniture, fixtures, machinery, equipment, and inventory) at local businesses was inspected via on-site visits, as necessary. These visits as well as meetings with business owners included discussions concerning issues affecting various types of businesses and the personal property of those businesses. Discussions also allowed the appraiser to explain the rendition process and to answer any questions the taxpayer may have. The on-site inspections allowed the appraiser to determine the quality, quantity, and condition of the personal property.

For 2023, the Orange County Appraisal District appraisers were responsible for appraising approximately 55,500 real property accounts. This amounted to an average of 11,100 accounts per appraiser.

Exemption Data

The Orange County Appraisal District is responsible for the administration of all property tax exemptions granted countywide as described in Chapter 11 of the Property Tax Code. The most common exemptions granted by the taxing units in Orange County pertain to homesteads. These exemptions include mandated homestead exemptions, optional homestead exemptions, over-65 exemptions, disability exemptions as defined by the Texas constitution, optional homestead exemptions as determined by each entity, Over-65 exemptions, disability exemptions, disabled veteran exemptions and 100% disabled veteran exemptions. Other exemptions administered by the district include pollution control exemptions, Freeport exemptions, charitable organizations, religious organizations, public property, Temporary Disaster and other miscellaneous exemptions.

All other homestead related exemptions are reviewed periodically to ensure that proper documentation is contained in each file and if not, new documentation is required. The district also has acquired information from the various cities to determine if the owners of the property receiving the homestead exemption are the same as the person being billed for utilities. If not, further investigation is made to see if the property is being rented or occupied by someone other than the owner.

The appraisal district currently has two employees in the Exemptions Department. These employees have been trained to be courteous to our customers and to be knowledgeable and fair in their processing of all exemptions. They also understand that their duty is to follow the Property Tax Code to grant any exemptions properly applied for and to deny any that do not qualify.

As you can see, all entities in Orange County grant the various homestead related exemptions mandated by law. The County of Orange, most of the schools and all the cities also grant the optional percentage exemptions and allow for the over-65 and disability tax ceiling (freeze) as allowed by the Property Tax Code. The tax ceilings prohibit increased taxes on the homestead on existing improvements. Significant new structures or additions to existing improvements will cause the ceiling to be recalculated for the subsequent tax year.

The following charts/graphs show the effect of these exemptions as they relate to the total value eligible for homestead.

Notice and Equalization Process

In April 2023, the Orange County Appraisal District mailed all real property appraisal notices to the taxpayers of Orange County. Industrial, mineral, and personal property notices were mailed in May of 2023. The appeal deadline for real property was May 31st. Since Personal Property is given until April 15th to file their renditions and that a mandatory extension of 30 days and a "good cause" extension of an additional 15 days are available, personal property notices cannot be mailed until after May 1st. All the notice deadlines set by the property tax code were met by the District.

The District began hearing informal appeals as soon as real property notices were mailed. Informal appeals allow the property owner an opportunity to meet with an appraisal district appraiser and discuss the appraisal on their property. The owner is given an opportunity to present evidence to the appraiser and to see how their property was appraised. If an error is discovered or if evidence is presented that changes the opinion of value, the appraiser can make a change to the appraisal. If an agreement is reached between the appraiser and the property owner, a Settlement Waiver of Protest is signed, and the appeal process is complete. If an agreement is not reached, a formal appeal is signed, and the property owner is scheduled for a hearing with the Appraisal Review Board.

Orange County Appraisal District began providing on-line appraisal appeals on real property accounts beginning in 2013. Using this process, the taxpayer is given an opportunity to file a protest and present evidence to the District for review. The information is then considered, and an offer is made to settle, or the taxpayer is informed that no change will be made, and the account will be scheduled for a formal hearing with the Appraisal Review Board. When compared with the informal hearing process, the results were very similar but did allow the taxpayer a method to be heard without having to physically come to the District's office. For 2023 the district had 674 on-line protests.

The Orange County Appraisal Review Board (ARB) is a quasi-judicial body appointed by the Orange County Appraisal District Board of Directors. Members are charged with the function of providing an impartial review of the appraisal records prepared by the District. The ARB is empowered to hear taxpayer appeals through scheduled hearings for taxpayers who dispute the appraised value, the equality of their appraisal with similar properties, the application of exemptions and special appraisals and any other action of the District that may affect taxpayer liability. The ARB members do not work for the appraisal district but rather, arbitrate between the taxpayer and the District. The five members of the ARB are appointed by the District's Board of Directors and serve two-year terms.

The 2022 Appraisal Review Board Members consisted of the following members:

- James Sears
- Michael Johnson
- Rose Court
- Carolyn Rose
- Vacant

Formal appeals for tax year 2022 began on May 11, 2023. A total of 21 hearing days were scheduled and 5343 formal protests were placed on the ARB calendar to be heard. The results of the 2023 appeals process are as follows:

Public Service

The Orange County Appraisal District strives to provide the taxpayers and taxing entities of Orange County an open and honest appraisal district. This has been accomplished in part, by providing timely and important press releases to the media regarding appraisal operations and deadlines as well as through the use of the District's updated website: www.orangecad.net. Orange County Appraisal District is very proud of the website and all that it provides to the public.

The Chief Appraiser, Scott Overton volunteers to speak on various topics pertaining to the operations of the district as well as topics of interest to senior citizens, service organizations and public entities. Recent topics have included: general operations, exemptions, and reappraisals. This has given these citizens an opportunity to put a "face" with the appraisal district and an opportunity to ask questions one-on-one.

The District's employees are also involved in several public service activities outside of their day-to-day job-related duties. Our employees are actively involved in the Texas Association of Appraisal Districts, where a couple serve as committee members.

The District is also extremely proud of the quality service provided by our employees to our customers, the taxpayers, and the taxing units. Our employees consistently go above-and-beyond to provide a courteous and helpful atmosphere. It is not uncommon to be given thanks and praise by our customers for outstanding service provided by employees.

As soon as the appraisal roll is certified, the information is presented to the Tax Assessor-Collector so that No New Tax Rates can be calculated. The Chief Appraiser also makes himself available to answer any questions. Our office also provides an employee to be available to assist the tax office personnel during peak times of the collection season.

Accomplishments

Methods and Assistance Program

Methods and Assistance Program reviews appraisal district governance, taxpayer assistance, operating and appraisal standards, and procedures and methodology at least once every 2 years. The Methods and Assistance Program review checks and ensures that appraisal districts are compliant with the International Association of Assessing Officers standards and Property Tax Division standards.

To acquire an "Exceeds" score, the District must receive a rating of over 100%. Orange County Appraisal District met the requirements in all categories.

In the 2023 M.A.P. Review the District had a perfect score. The next M.A.P. audit will be in 2025.

Property Value Study

The Property Value Study has two functions – to assess the median level of appraisal for an appraisal district and to determine if the values are at or near market value, for school funding purposes. This test of the district's values is performed every even-numbered year and as of the last study, the district has never been found to have values outside the required confidence intervals. This is done for equitable school funding. The state sends more money to those districts that are less able to raise money locally because of insufficient taxable property. Each appraisal district must have a ratio between 95% - 105%. The Orange County Appraisal District has worked diligently to ensure that our values consistently meet the requirements of the Texas Comptroller's Property Value Study. In 2022 Orange County had four school districts fall outside the parameters of the Property Value Study.

Educational Requirements

The Orange County Appraisal District has been fortunate to maintain an appraisal staff that are all licensed by the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation and designated as Registered Professional Appraisers. New licensing requirements mandate that these appraisers maintain a minimum of 30 hours of training in any given year and must be recertified every two years on the anniversary date of their original certification. The District's Board of Directors has ensured that the budget includes adequate funding to allow for the required training. In addition, requirements contained in the Methods and Assistance Program audit call for additional training of non-licensed employees in the area of public service and records retention. All these requirements have been met or exceeded.

Deadlines

The Texas Property Tax Code requires that several important deadlines be met each year. These include: 1) Preliminary estimates; 2) Appraisal Review Board approval of the appraisal roll; and 3) Certification of the appraisal roll. OCAD has met all deadlines in each of the past 10 years.

Open-Space Special Appraisal

The District has worked in conjunction with the Agricultural Committee to determine guidelines for the various types of agricultural uses of property in Orange County. These guidelines were used to question property owners who had applied for the special appraisal in previous years but did not fall into the guideline criteria. The property tax code allows the Chief Appraiser to require new applications when warranted and properties that were outside the guidelines were required to reapply

Over the past several years, the District's GIS department has worked to provide digital maps showing all properties currently receiving either open-space or timber appraisal. USDA soil types are also shown.
